Brief report on activity	The celebration of World First Aid Day organized by the NSS Unit at SVKM's Campus in Dhule, in collaboration with the District Health Centre Dhule, on September 11, 2022, not only benefited the participants from various backgrounds but also the students of the Institute of Technology. This event aimed to raise awareness about the importance of first aid and its practical demonstration. Dr. Prachi Chaudhari, a physician from the District Health Center in Dhule, delivered an informative talk on the theme of "Lifelong First Aid." The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) established World First Aid Day in 2000. Dr. Prachi emphasized that acquiring first aid skills and knowledge is valuable for individuals of all ages, as it contributes to creating safer and healthier communities. Additionally, students had the opportunity to witness a demonstration on addressing breathing difficulties. Dr. Sameer N. Goyal expressed his appreciation to everyone involved in the successful organization of the event, including the Institute of Technology students who benefited from this informative initiative. Dr. Sameer N. Goyal, principal of the institute provided guidance and motivation for the successful organization of this event.
Duration of Program	: 2 hrs.
